A Programme That Really Pays - Paid Surveys

To COME UP WITH OWN TRAINING CENTRE IN JULY

*The Business Diary Team
Mumbai, April - May 2010*

Indeed! A programme that really pays through paid surveys, is finally here. Speakasia, a Singapore based online web portal where consumers (Panelists) join hands to shape and develop products and services surveys launched by brand-owners, had started creating ripples in the Indian networking community. The Speakasia panelists are primarily from Asia, and represent a wide spectrum of age, income and professional attributes. The Company offers an attractive fixed income apart from legitimate paid online surveys, through which a member can earn good income.

The Company forayed into Indian network market during February 2010 and had been doing well since it's entry. The Company would be coming up with its own 'Training Centre' by July and had already opened a call centre at Delhi which would function from 10 AM to 6 PM every day and could be reached on phone 011-42531829. The Company has bagged the survey orders from Metlife and Merico Group (Mfrs of Parachute Hair Oil), and more orders are on the anvil.

A seemingly ethical organization with reputed client base, Speakasia is backed by "certificate of good standing" by Singapore authorities and is associated with "Yahoo Network Publisher". It pays to its panelists regularly. The unique rejection proof fixed panel income programme and the long term business model is backed by training and infrastructure. The Company adopted a good referral programme and a legitimate contractual employment programme.

Mrs. Haren Kaur, Director, flew in from Singapore to attend a Leaders Meet and a get together here in Mumbai recently. She announced a International Panelist Conference at Singapore. It will be a two day conference with two nights and three days stay and air fare, paid by the Company and Every individual who joins as a panelist will get two surveys and other market research/advertisement programs every week. The panelist will be paid $7 - $20 per week for the work completed.

Any individual willing to join as a panelist can choose to subscribe for either standard panelist training program or premium panelist training program by paying a registration amount of $20 and training a fee of $100 for standard panelist training and $200 for premium panelist training. A standard panelist will get 26 issues of e-magazine and premium panelist will get 52 issues of e-magazine. An individual can buy a maximum three panels to maximize the earnings.

In corporate panel program a panelist can also add up to 09 sub-panels on their existing panel. This will facilitate a panelist to earn more money. Each sub panel has the same earning potential as the panel. Panelist can add either standard sub-panel or premium sub-panel by paying extra $100 or $200. A panel center with 09 additional sub-panels will have ten times more potential earning than single panel center. Three panel centers and 27 sub-panel centers will create 30 working centers and each working center will earn you either $7 or $20 per week as per the status (standard/premium)

"This is 100 per cent legal. Doing survey and getting paid is legal worldwide. Market research is not a new program and there are thousands of other agencies involved into survey business", the Company stated.

The Company is well established in Singapore, Malaysia, Indonesia and entered India. In India, it has developed its presence in Mumbai, Delhi, Lucknow, Kanpur, Varanasi and Allahabad.
